

Family PACT: Claim Form Completion – Method of Family Planning Indicators

familypact29

1

This section contains a list of Family PACT method of family planning indicators. For the HCFA 1500 claim form the indicator is one character (for example “A” or “B”). For the UB-92 Claim Form the indicator is two characters, with “F” as the first character (for example “FA” or “FB”). See the following instructions for where to place the indicator on the claim form.

Method of Family Planning Indicators

All Family PACT medical and outpatient claims must also include a report of the primary family planning method the client will use at the end of the office visit. Clients using hormonal methods also may be using back-up or ongoing dual barrier methods. In this instance, do not report the back-up or ongoing dual barrier methods as a primary method. A client may have an evaluation visit for a new method but continue to use the current method; report the current method.

Note: The method of family planning indicator is a required data element on all clinician claims submitted for reimbursement under the Family PACT Program. Laboratory and pharmacy claims do not require a method of family planning indicator.

The method of family planning indicators are as follows:

Entering Method of Family Planning Indicator on Claim

HCFA 1500 claim form: Enter the appropriate one-character method of family planning indicator in the EPSDT Family Planning field (Box 24H).

UB-92 Claim Form: Enter the appropriate two-character method of family planning indicator in the Condition Code fields (Boxes 24 – 30).

Note: The family planning method indicator and the primary diagnosis may or may not identify the same family planning method. The office visit may be an evaluation service for a new method, a method other than the method used at the end of the visit.

Medical claims without required method indicator will be denied.
Pharmacy and laboratory claims are excluded from this requirement.
